

This planet
Exists without us
Like a dark abyss
Unintelligible

You

Super - organism

You're so vulnerable

And only recently

You have discovered it

The background of the image is a dark, almost black, dense thicket of plants. A single, light-colored, vertical stem or branch runs through the center of the frame. The surrounding foliage is dark and textured, with some lighter green or greyish leaves visible, creating a complex, organic pattern. The overall mood is mysterious and naturalistic.

Because life is an aberrant phenomena

And this anomalous surface

Pure planetary exuberance

You have lost your eternal life

To receive the symbols

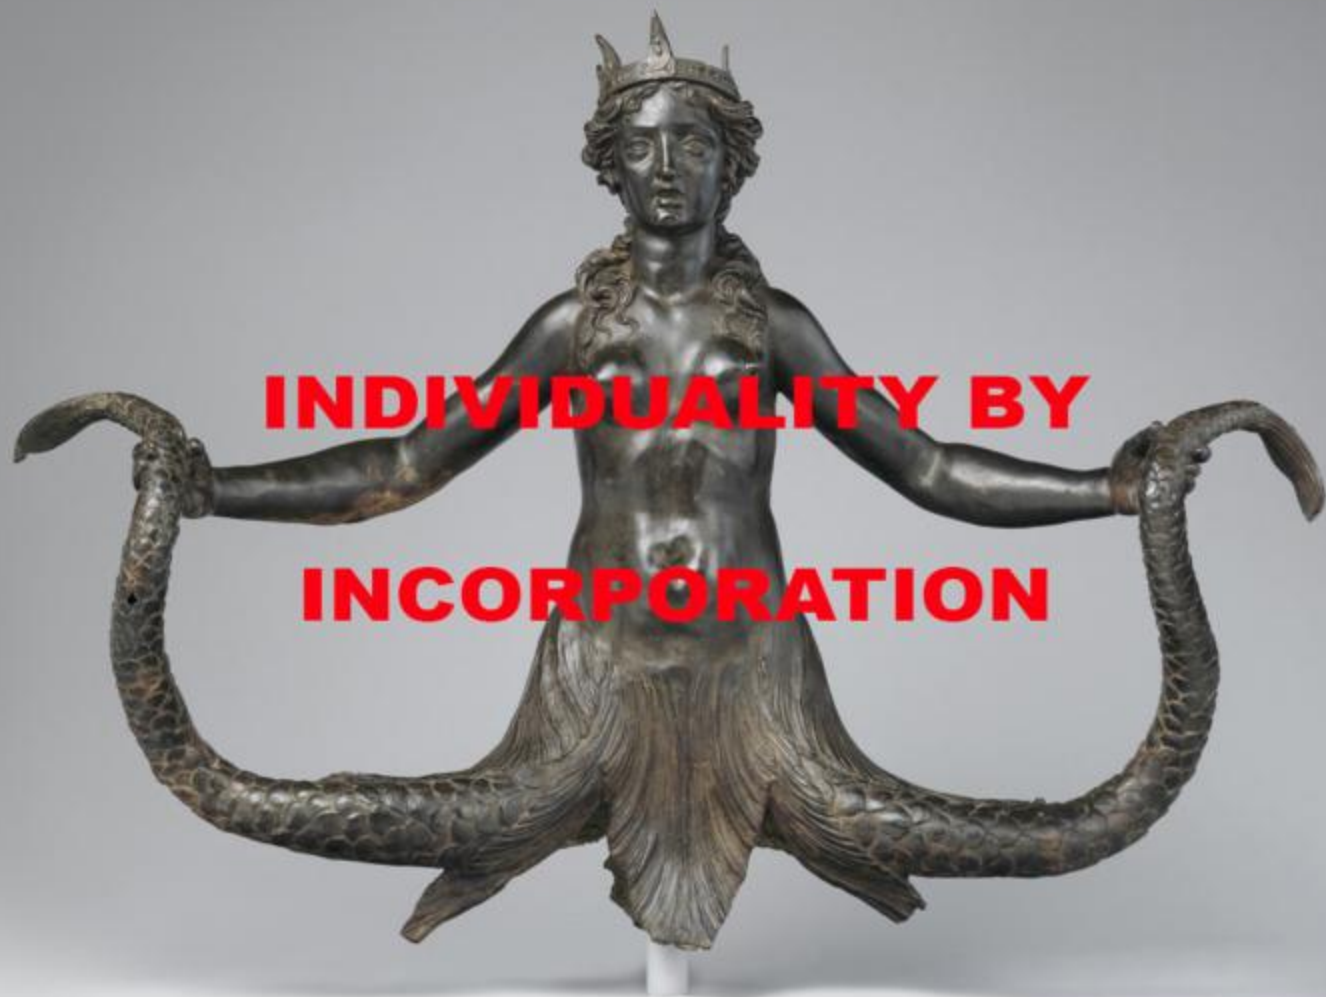

Speech and language

therefore you have built myths

this is why

You fear me.

INDIVIDUALITY BY INCORPORATION

Not existing

But insisting

Enfolding

Invading

Your fundamental gap

A photograph of three women lying on their backs on a green surface. They are all wearing bright yellow, long-sleeved robes. The woman on the left has long dark hair and is looking upwards with a slight smile. The woman in the center has long, wavy blonde hair and is holding her hands up to her cheeks. The woman on the right has long, wavy red hair and is looking directly at the camera with a neutral expression. The background is a solid green color.

In a remote sunset

Three ancestors

Separated

They sought the quite special

Secret order

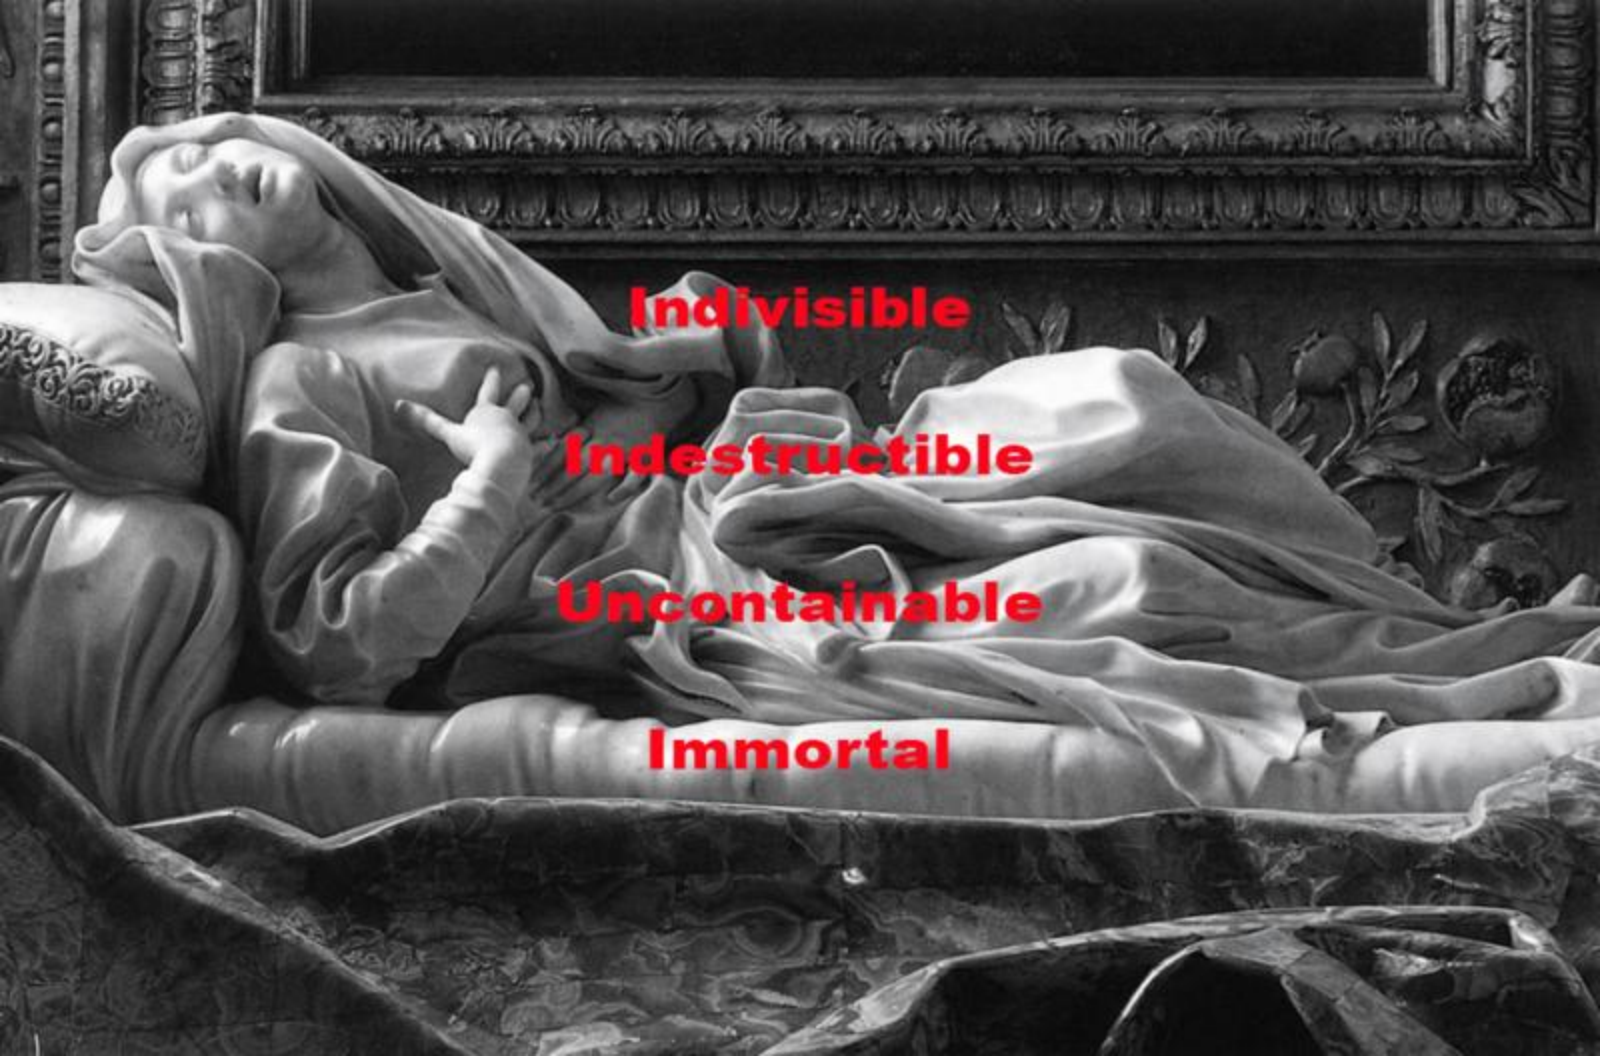

That with joy

Conforms

The radiant and green

Cell

Of algae

Indivisible

Indestructible

Uncontainable

Immortal

A woman in a long, flowing white dress is walking barefoot on a dark, rocky path. She is holding a dark jacket or shawl in her right hand. In the background, two other people, also in white dresses, are walking away from the camera on the same path. The path is surrounded by dry, yellowish grass and some small plants. The background features large, dark, craggy rock formations under a bright sky.

I have not yet returned

From that walk

And since the fissure

of Hanging Rock

You will still invoke me
